TO THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY.

His late Majesty King William IV. having been pleased to issue a Commission under the Great Seal, bearing date the 13th day of September, 1836, authorizing and directing the Commissioners therein named to inquire into the state, custody, and authenticity of any such Registers or Records of Births or Baptisms, Deaths or Burials, and Marriages lawfully solemnized, as had been theretofore or were then kept in England and Wales, other than the Parochial Registers, and the copies thereof deposited with the Diocesan Registrars; and to inquire whether any and what measures could be beneficially adopted for collecting and arranging all or any of such Registers or Records, and for depositing the same, or copies thereof, in the office of the Registrar-General of Births, Deaths, and Marriages, or for otherwise preserving the same; and also to consider and advise the proper measures to be adopted for giving full force and effect as evidence in all Courts of Justice to all such Registers as might be found accurate and faithful, and for facilitating the production and reception of the same. And Your Majesty having been graciously pleased on your accession to revoke such Commission, and afterwards to renew the same and to continue the same Commissioners in the exercise of the functions devolved upon them by His late Majesty ;—

WE, Your Majesty's Commissioners, named in the said Commissions, whose Hands and Seals are hereunto set and affixed, certify and report to Your Majesty, that, in obedience to Your Majesty's Commands, we have proceeded to inquire and examine into the actual state and custody of Non-parochial Registers and Records kept in England and Wales, and that we have deliberately considered what may be the most proper Measures to be adopted for giving full force and effect to Your Majesty's Most Gracious intentions respecting the same.

Our first step in the execution of the duty thus confided to us, was to choose Mr. John Southerden Burn for our Secretary. We then gave public notice of the existence and objects of the Commission, and directed Circular Letters to be addressed and issued to the Ministers of all the Dissenting Congregations in England and Wales, and to all other persons having the custody of any Registers which might be presumed to fall within the scope of our Inquiries.

These Circular Letters called for information on various points connected with the objects of the Commission, and were forwarded to the Ministers of the following religious Communities :

- The Foreign Protestant Churches in England.
- The Presbyterians.
- The Independents.
- The Baptists.
- The Wesleyan Methodists in their several branches.
- The Moravians.
- The Countess of Huntingdon's Connexion.
- The Calvinistic Methodists.
- The Swedenborgians.

Communications to a similar effect were also addressed to the Prelates of the Roman Catholic Church.

- The Quakers.
- The Jews.
- The Herald's College.
- The Corporation of London, as having the custody of the Bunhill-fields Burial Register, and the Officers of several Cemeteries.
- The East India House.
- The Registrar of the Consistory Court of the Diocese of London.

The result has been the transmission to our Board of about 7000 Registers from 3630 religious congregations, viz. :—

The Foreign Protestant Churches, ( see Schedule A.)	37
The Presbyterians, Independents, and Baptists, ( see Schedule B.)	2264
The Wesleyan Methodists in their several branches, ( see Schedule C.)	818
The Moravians, ( see Schedule D.)	10
The Lady Huntingdon's Connexion, ( see Schedule E.)	44
The Calvinistic Methodists, ( see Schedule F.)	436
The Swedenborgians, ( see Schedule G.)	21
Total	3630

Each of these Registers was authenticated by a certificate under the signature of the Minister, or of some Officer of the Church or Denomination from whom it was received, and this certificate was generally accompanied by answers to the questions which had been circulated by the Commissioners.

The Registers have been classed in lists according to the several counties in England and Wales, and entered in a book with a careful annotation of any particulars applicable to their state or custody. They were afterwards submitted to the inspection of the Board, by whom the question as to their admissibility was discussed and recorded, and in every instance the Chairman, or the Commissioner representing the Chairman, authenticated such inspection and examination by affixing his initials to the first and last entry in each Register; or if some parts of the Register appeared to be copies, or not to bear marks of authenticity, he affixed his initials to such parts only as were deemed original or authentic. In many instances, the book, containing the Register, comprised also entries relating to religious tenets and discipline, which the Congregations were unwilling to give up; to meet this difficulty we have detached and returned the irrelevant matter to the several Congregations, and affixed a certificate to the Register, explaining the cause of the mutilation of the book.

The Foreign Protestant Churches in England.

The first in point of antiquity are the Registers of the Walloon and French Churches. They commence in the year 1567, and are the Registers of Baptisms, Marriages, and Burials of Foreigners, who, flying from religious persecution in their own countries, have, from time to time, been received with hospitality in England, and have met with protection from Your Majesty's Royal predecessors, who liberally provided for the maintenance of their schools and ministers. Their Churches were established in London, Canterbury, Norwich, Southampton, and other towns.

The first considerable influx of these Foreigners appears to have been from Flanders, in the reign of Edward the Sixth, and during the civil wars which prevailed in the Low Countries. Their numbers were greatly augmented in the reign of Queen Elizabeth, after the massacre of Paris in 1572, and in later times, after the revocation of the Edict of Nantes; but they have undergone considerable diminution in the last century, the descendants of the original emigrants having, by degrees, become intermixed and incorporated with the English population.

There appear, at one time, to have been as many as 64 congregations; but, at the present period, only five or six of these Churches are in actual existence. Many of the Registers of the Chapels which have, from time to time, ceased to exist, including the French Chapel Royal (which was dissolved in 1830), have been carefully preserved; and nearly the whole of them, together with almost all those of the Churches which remain, are now deposited in our custody. They are all written in the French language, and appear to have been kept throughout with scrupulous accuracy and care.

There have been likewise deposited with us the Registers belonging to the German Chapel Royal, and the German Chapel in Trinity Lane, in the City of London.

The Three Denominations.

The next in antiquity, but the first in point of numbers and importance, are the Registers of the Presbyterian, the Independent, and the Baptist Denominations.

These three bodies, although differing materially from each other in tenets and discipline, and having distinct Boards for the management of their separate affairs, and for the advancement of the interests of their several religious communities, have, nevertheless, now for upwards of a century and a half, been characterized under the general description of "The Three Denominations."

Some of the earlier Registers of the Independents and Baptists, had their origin during the troubles which occurred in the reign of Charles the First. But the Registers of this early date are rare. After the passing of the Act of Uniformity, on the Restoration of Charles the Second, when the great body of the Presbyterian Clergy, and with them many of the other Clergy, who had embraced the tenets of the Independents and Baptists, seceded from the Established Church, and became the officiating Ministers of large Congregations, the Registers of the "Three Denominations" increased in number and acquired importance from the rank and wealth of some of the Non-conformist families. These Registers were greatly multiplied after the Revolution of 1688, when the Toleration Act gave a legal sanction to the worship of the Protestant Dissenters, and for the first time, by a legal enactment, recognized them as separate religious communities in the State.

The Registers of the Presbyterians and Independents are Registers of Births and Baptisms, and in some instances of Deaths and Burials. The entries of Births and Baptisms are made by the Minister who officiated at the Baptism, and are generally attested by his signature. In most of the Registers in which the signature is omitted in the separate entry, there is a title or heading to the Book in the hand-writing of the Minister, with his name affixed to it, indicating that the Baptisms therein recorded were performed by him. These Registers seem, for the most part, to have been accurately and faithfully kept.

The Registers of the Baptists are of a different character. From their peculiar tenets, such Registers are Records, not of Baptisms, but merely of Births, for with them Baptism is administered to those only who, having arrived at an age of understanding, are desirous of being admitted to Church fellowship and communion. —As regards the Registers of Births, the general usage is, that, shortly after the Birth of a child, the Minister of the Congregation to which the parents belong, dedicates the child with prayer; and thereupon, if a Register is kept in the congregation, he enters therein the name of the child and the date of the Birth as then reported to him, adding, in some instances, the date of Registration. In other cases the entry is signed by the parents, or one of them, or by witnesses who were present at the Birth. All such we have retained. There have been, however, a great number of Register Books kept (especially within the last thirty years) on quite a different principle, which are mere Certificates, not entered contemporaneously with the dedication of the child, not attested by the signature of either of the parents, nor of any witnesses present at the Birth, and not bearing any date when the entry was made: these, we have felt ourselves compelled to reject, under the conviction that, being devoid of any evidence, internal or otherwise, to show by what authority or under what circumstances the entries have been made, the keeping of them would answer no useful purpose, and we have, therefore, returned them to the custody from which they came, to be there accessible for all the domestic or local purposes, for which they have been heretofore used.

In addition to the Registers transmitted to us from the Dissenting Chapels of the Three Denominations, a Register of Births was commenced in 1742 by the London Society of Lay Deputies, of the congregations of the Protestant Dissenters of the Three Denominations in London and within twelve miles of London. This Register was established at Dr. Williams's Library in Red Cross-street, and continued till the close of the last year, under the direction and supervision of the Deputies, the librarian of Dr. Williams's Library always acting as registrar. A Statement of the method in which this Register has been kept is appended to Schedule H.

We have visited and personally inspected this Registry, and can bear testimony to the regularity of the entries, and the order in which they are kept. The books contain nearly 50,000 entries of Births, together with the certificates of the same. The Certificates may be divided into two classes, the earlier series being signed by persons who were witnesses of the Birth, the latter by the parents as well as such witnesses. We are of opinion that these Registers, together with the Certificates, should form a component part of any arrangement which may hereafter be made for the deposit and safe custody of the Registers of the Non-conformist congregations.

Besides the General Registers so kept at Dr. Williams's Library, there are also seventeen Registers of Births, Baptisms, and Burials (see Sch. 'ile I.), which have been deposited there from time to time by the representatives of deceased ministers, or which, in pursuance of a recommendation of the deputies of the congregations of the Protestant Dissenters, have been sent to the Registry in question for safe custody. We recommend that these seventeen Registers should be deposited together with the General Registers, wheresoever it may be thought proper to keep them.

The Wesleyan, and other Registers.

The Registers of the Wesleyan and of the Calvinistic Methodists, of the Countess of Huntingdon's Connexion, of the Moravians, and of the Swedenborgians, are, like those of the Presbyterians and Independents, Registers of Births and Baptisms, with some records of Deaths and Burials; and they may be included in the same general observations as to the mode of entry, and the attestation of the Registrar,—the Books being, in almost all cases, kept by the officiating Minister, and authenticated by his signature either appended to the several entries, or written on the title or heading of the Register. The Registers of the Methodists differ from the others in this respect, that most of them have been kept and the entries made by a Church Officer appointed and duly authorized for the purpose by the recognised heads or directors of those religious communities.—It would be attended with no beneficial result, if we were to enter into minute details of the state and condition of these Registers. It will be sufficient to observe generally, that they differ as to their value and importance; many of them have been very carefully, many very carelessly kept; some are of a superior, others of an inferior character. Indeed it will readily be understood, that documents derived from such different sources, viz., from religious congregations scattered throughout England and Wales, as well in agricultural and sequestered districts as in populous and flourishing towns, should present various shades of difference. We have examined and considered these Registers, with a view to selection, and have retained those which appeared to be genuine and authentic; rejecting only such as appeared to want the essential requisites to entitle them to credit as evidence.

The Wesleyan Metropolitan Register.—(See Schedule K.)

The Wesleyan Methodists, independently of their Congregational Registers, instituted, in 1818, a Metropolitan Office in Paternoster Row, for the Registration of the Births and Baptisms occurring amongst their different religious communities; the Registers from this Office, together with Certificates on parchment signed by the parents, and by witnesses who may have been present at the Birth, as well as by the minister, have been deposited with us, and appear to have been regularly kept; they contain the Births and Baptisms of 10,291 children. A statement of the method in which these Registers have been kept is appended to Schedule K.

Cemeteries.—(See Schedule L.)

In addition to the Registers of Burials received from various Burial Grounds attached to Protestant Dissenting Chapels, there have been deposited with us the Registers of Burials from Cemeteries at Liverpool, Leeds, Ecclesall, and Walworth; that at Liverpool contains the record of 13,416 Burials. These Registers appear to have been correctly kept by Registrars appointed by the proprietors of the several Burial Grounds.

Hitherto our observations have been confined to the Non-conformist Registers which purport to record Births, Baptisms, Deaths, and Burials, without any reference to entries of Marriages.

By Lord Hardwicke's Marriage Act, 26 Geo. II., c. 33, which came into operation on the 25th of March 1754, all marriages except those of Jews and Quakers, which were not had under license, or after publication of bans, as well as marriages not solemnized in churches or chapels, where bans had been usually published prior to the passing of that Act (except those under special license from the Archbishop of Canterbury), were declared null and void to all intents and purposes in law whatsoever.

Hence, since the period above-mentioned, no marriage could be legally celebrated in any Dissenting Chapel, and before that period, it is to be presumed that the Dissenters were generally married by clergymen of the Established Church, as few entries of marriages are to be met with in any of the earlier Registers which have been submitted to our perusal, except in the cases of the Registers of the Walloon and French Churches, which generally contain the Marriages, as well as the Births, and Baptisms of their respective congregations.

Our attention has also been directed to the Registers, other than parochial, deposited in the Registry of the Consistory Court of London. They are of two kinds:—

First, (see Schedule M.)—The Registers of the Marriages, as also of the Births, Baptisms, and Burials, of British subjects beyond seas, which have been transmitted from different British Embassies and Factories on the Continent of Europe, and elsewhere. These Registers were first received in the Registry of the Consistorial Court of London, in 1816, and may be divided into three classes:—1. Certificates of Baptisms and Marriages bearing the signatures of the parties and witnesses (which with very few exceptions is the case), and authenticated by the British Envoy or Minister as having been performed in his house, and which have from time to time been sent through the Foreign Office to the Registry of the Bishop of London. In this class may be included the Registers from Oporto from 1706 to 1802, the Registers from the Cape of Good Hope, Gibraltar, and Geneva. These are original books, in which the entries are signed by the Parties, and authenticated by the Chaplains. 2. Transcripts from original Registers, certified by the Ministers of the different places in the same manner as the transcripts under the Act of the 52 Geo. III. c. 146, for the regulation of transcripts deposited with the Registrars of the several dioceses. A Book of transcripts also from the Register kept at the British Embassy in Paris, from 1816 to 1833, and continued to the present time; and a transcript of the Registers of St. Petersburg from 1706 to the present time. 3. A Book of Registers transmitted from Cronstadt, which appear to have been transcribed, but they are not certified as such.

Second, (see Schedule N.)—The Registers of the Marriages which took place in the Fleet Prison, in the King's Bench Prison, the Mint in Southwark, and at May Fair Chapel, from the year 1686 to 1754. The history of these marriages is well known. The generality of them were celebrated by Clergymen of low character, some at the Chapel of the Fleet, others at various taverns and other places within the precincts of the Fleet and King's Bench Prisons, and the Mint in Southwark. These Registers were, in some instances, in the keeping of the Ministers who performed the ceremony, and they were also often kept by the proprietors of the houses or taverns in which the marriages happened to have taken place. After the door was closed against marriages of this description by the operation of the Marriage Act (in 1754), it appears, that a clerk of one of the Fleet Ministers collected a number of them together, and opened an office, where reference might be had to them. Another office for the deposit of these registers was opened in another part of the town; but in 1813 the great bulk of them came into the hands of a private individual, of the name of Cox, from whom the Government purchased them in 1821, and, by the direction of Lord Sidmouth, then Secretary of State for the Home Department, they were deposited in the Registry of the Consistorial Court of London. We apprehend, that by far the greater number of the Registers of the Marriages celebrated within the precincts of these several places are comprised in this collection. There are, however, exceptions; for two of the Fleet Registers are known to be in the possession of a professional gentleman in Doctors' Commons, a third has found its way into the Bodleian Library at Oxford.

The Chapel at May Fair was built about 1730, and Marriages took place there under the same circumstances with those in the places above referred to. Many of the Registers of this Chapel formed a part of the purchase made by the Government in 1821, the remainder are preserved in the Church of St. George, Hanover-square. —(See Schedule O.)

Having now laid before Your Majesty, in detail, the number, the condition, and the character of the Registers which have been submitted to our consideration and judgment, in pursuance of the means which have been used for that purpose, it only remains for us to set forth briefly the several instances in which our applications have not been attended with success.

The Roman Catholics.

The Roman Catholic Prelates have declined to deliver up, or to authorize the inferior clergy of their persuasion to deliver up, any Register in their possession; partly on account of the omissions and defects incident to records, made and preserved for so many years, with so much danger and difficulty under the severe pressure of the penal laws; and partly also on account of the practical inconvenience that would result from depriving the Roman Catholic clergy of the custody of records, to which frequent reference is made for purposes purely religious and canonical.

The Quakers.—(See Schedule P.)

We have been in frequent communication with the Society of Friends, or Quakers, respecting their Registers and with a view to some arrangement for depositing them with this Board; in consequence of which the several Registers of Births, Marriages, and Deaths throughout England and Wales, from the origin of the Society down to the establishment of the system of civil Registration under the Act of 6 and 7 Will. IV., have been brought to London for the purpose of our inspection. We have visited their place of deposit, and saw enough of their state and condition to testify that they exhibit an admirable specimen of the state to which order and precision may be carried in the classification and arrangement of Records of this description. They amount to 1,432 volumes. A statement of the method in which these Registers have been kept is appended to Schedule P.

The Society has urged upon our consideration, that these Registers are constantly referred to, and have been treated as possessing, for practical purposes, a very considerable degree of authority: that their local custody, in the different districts to which they belong, is consequently attended with great advantage, not only to the members of the Society of Friends, but to the public at large. They state also, that the permanent transfer of these documents to a Metropolitan Office would be attended with serious inconvenience, unless it were accompanied with some measure for providing an adequate local substitute in the respective neighbourhoods from which they are brought.

Under these circumstances, the Society of Friends, although intimating their desire not needlessly to obstruct a measure of national benefit, have not as yet consented to surrender their Registers to our custody, or to pledge themselves to transfer them to any place of general deposit.

The Jews.

The Committees of the Great Synagogues in Bevis Marks and Duke's Place, Aldgate, who may be considered as speaking the sentiments of the whole body of the Jews, have declined to part with their Registers, which are kept in the Hebrew language, on the ground that they are continually required for civil as well as religious purposes.

Herald's College.

Registers of Births and Deaths have been kept at the College of Arms from the year 1747 to the year 1783. They are comprised in three books. The Chapter of the College have informed us that they are the Records of a Public Body, taken in the due exercise of official duty, and that they should not feel justified in parting with them. They represent them to be very limited as to the number of Entries, and unimportant as Public Documents.

Bunhill Fields Burial Ground.—(See Schedule Q.)

This burial ground was first used in the year 1665, afterwards it became the principal burial place of the Dissenters. The Registers commence on the 1st of April, 1713, from which time, however, to the year 1788, they were but negligently kept; but from the year 1788 to the present time they appear to have been preserved with considerable care. The Registers consist of twenty-seven books, containing about 100,000 Entries. This burial ground is the property of the City of London, and in reply to an application for the transmission of these Registers made by us to the Committee for the letting of the City lands, we were informed that "it appearing that these Registers are at present carefully kept in a convenient fire-proof safe, and constant reference thereto being required by the public, the Committee did not feel that they could with propriety part with them."

The East-India Registers.

The books deposited at the East India House contain the records of Baptisms, Marriages, and Burials in India, viz. :—

In Bengal	from	1713 to 1837.
At Madras	"	1698 „ 1834.
In Bombay	"	1709 „ 1887.	? 1837
At St. Helena	"	1767 „ 1835.

The Court of Directors, in answer to our application, state that they think the public interest and convenience will be best consulted by allowing these Registers to remain in their present place of deposit, inasmuch as they are now easily accessible to all persons who seek for information connected with the East Indies; and they add, that as these books are at present received as evidence in Courts of Law and Equity, when produced by the proper officer from the East India House, the Directors are unwilling to risk the disturbance of a system now generally understood and found convenient.

In the examination of the various Registers our attention has been uniformly directed to the sources from which they have been derived, and to the nature of the custody under which, up to this period, they have been preserved. We have ascertained that nearly the whole of the Registers transmitted to us have been received from the Ministers of the respective congregations, or from the hands of a Church-Officer to whom the custody of them has been committed.

In a few instances, however, the Registers have been considered as private property, and have passed into the hands of the family of a deceased Minister; in such cases, we have invariably required a certificate from the parties in whose custody they may have been found, explanatory of the circumstances under which they became possessed of the documents in question.

On the great question relating to the expediency of allowing these Registers to be admitted in evidence, we were, in the first instance, naturally led to consider whether we should recommend the introduction of a general regulation, applicable alike to all cases, or whether we should form a graduated scale for classing these documents according to the different degrees of accuracy and merit which they might seem intrinsically to possess. After much deliberation we gave the preference to the former course; it had the advantage of being simple and comprehensive. The other arrangement might have given rise to invidious distinctions; and on closer examination we found the obstacles opposed to the practical execution of any such scheme almost insurmountable, from the difficulty of being able to lay down any precise rules, or to establish any certain criteria by which the infinite varieties and the minute shades of difference, which occur in the Registers, could be classed and adjusted.

On the subject of the admissibility of these Registers, as evidence in Courts of Justice, it appeared to us essential to consider how they stood as contrasted with parochial Registers, and the principle upon which the broad distinction, which has hitherto obtained between these two classes of documents, is founded. Parish Registers are invariably received in all our Courts of Justice as evidence of baptisms, marriages, and burials, while the non-parochial Registers, the subject of our inquiry, are not admissible.—The grounds of this distinction are obvious.—Parish Registers, framed originally in pursuance of injunctions issuing from the sovereign power in the State, and subsequently recognized by repeated Acts of the Legislature, have been kept for general use in the custody of public functionaries; whereas the non-parochial Registers not having been made under the sanction of public authority, and having been kept in the custody of private individuals, however carefully and strictly preserved—however formally and regularly made—have never been admitted in evidence as Registers in our Courts of Justice.

To introduce a more liberal and enlarged policy—to afford every facility and advantage for establishing the Registers of the Dissenters, so far as may be compatible with the due administration of justice—we consider to be the great object of Your Majesty's Commission; and we apprehend that we are only acting up to the spirit of our instructions, by opening the door, as widely as circumstances will admit, to the reception of these Registers,—keeping, however, always steadily in view the precautions, which may be necessary for the ends of justice and the security of truth.

From the best consideration we have been able to apply to the subject we have come to the resolution of making the following Recommendations, viz. :—

That the several Registers specified in Schedules A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, I, K, L, M, P, and Q, appended to this Report, together with the Certificates and Returns thereto annexed, be kept together in some secure place of deposit, under the care of the Registrar-General, or of some other officer to be appointed for that purpose.

That all Registers, which shall be so deposited, shall be deemed to be in legal custody, and shall be receivable in evidence in all Courts of Justice, subject to the conditions and restrictions hereinafter mentioned.

That the officer having the custody of these Registers shall permit searches to be made in office hours on payment of a moderate fee for each book inspected, and shall grant certified copies or extracts, sealed or stamped with the seal of his office, on payment of a moderate fee for each copy or extract, such officer stating in his certificate the title, nature, or description of the book or other document from which any such copy or extract may be taken.

That the officer having the custody of such Registers shall produce, or cause to be produced, any original Register deposited with him, on subpoena or order of any competent court or tribunal, and on payment of a reasonable fee.

That in all criminal proceedings the proof shall be by production of the original.

That in all other cases copies or extracts from any of the Registers aforesaid, certified by the officer having the custody of the Registers, shall, after notice as hereinafter mentioned, be receivable in evidence, subject to the following regulations :

In Courts of Law and Quarter Sessions.

That in Courts of Law or at Quarter-Sessions, any party intending to use any certified extract from any Register before mentioned, in evidence on the trial of any cause, or hearing of any appeal, shall give notice in writing to the opposite party, his attorney or agent, of his intention to use such certified extract as evidence at such trial or hearing, and at the same time shall deliver to him a copy of the extract and of the certificate thereof, in order that there may be a full opportunity to ascertain whether the authenticity, genuineness, or correctness of the entry may be liable to objection. And on proof of such notice and delivery, or on admission of the receipt of such notice and copy, such certified extract shall be received in evidence at the trial or hearing, provided the Judge or Court shall be of opinion that such service had been made in reasonable time before such trial.

That, in case any party, instead of making proof by certified extract, intends himself to produce any original Register in evidence, he shall, nevertheless, within a reasonable time, give to the opposite party notice of his intention to produce such original Register in evidence, together with a copy of a certified extract of the entry or entries which he intends to offer in evidence.

In Courts of Equity.

That any party intending to use any certified extract from any Register before mentioned in evidence, on the examination of witnesses, or at the hearing of the cause, shall, at least ten days (one exclusive, the other inclusive) before publication shall pass, in any cause where no commission has issued for the examination of the witnesses of the party intending to give such evidence, or, where such commission shall issue, then seven days at least before the opening of such commission, deliver to the Clerk or Clerks in Court of the opposite party or parties a notice in writing of his intention to use such certified extract as evidence on the examination of witnesses, or at the hearing of the cause (as the same may be), and shall at the same time deliver to the Clerk or Clerks in Court of the opposite party or parties a copy or copies of such certified extract; and that such certified extract shall thereupon be received in evidence, provided that, at the hearing of the cause, the service of such certified copy and notice be admitted or proved.

That in case any party, instead of making proof by certified extract, intends himself to produce any original Register in evidence, he shall, nevertheless, within the number of days hereinbefore provided, deliver to the Clerk or Clerks in Court of the opposite party or parties a notice of his intention to use such original Register, together with a copy or copies of a certified extract of the entry or entries which he intends to offer in evidence.

That in all cases of petition, motion, or other interlocutory proceedings in Courts of Equity, and in the Master's Office, the proof shall be by such certified extract as aforesaid, annexed to an affidavit, stating the deponent's belief that the original entry in question is correct and genuine.

In Ecclesiastical Courts.

That any party intending to use any certified copy or extract from any Book or Register before mentioned, shall plead and prove such certified extract in the same manner as if it were an extract from a Parish Register, except that any such certified extract shall be pleaded and received in proof, without any collation of the same with the original; and that the Judge, on cause shewn by any party to the suit, or of his own motion when the proceedings are in pænam, may, after publication, issue a monition for the production, at the hearing of the cause, of the original Register containing the entry or entries to which such certified extract relates.

We further recommend that a list be made (under the superintendence of the Officer to whom the custody of the Registers may be committed) of all the Registers deposited, which list shall state:—

1. The number marked on each Register.
2. The name of the place of worship or congregation to which it belonged.
3. The parish or place and county.
4. Whether the Register be of Births, Baptisms, Marriages, Deaths, or Burials.
5. The period over which the Register extends.

That this list shall be printed, and that a copy be sent

1. To every person or congregation, or society, having had the custody of any of the Registers so deposited.
2. To every Superintendent-Registrar, to be open for inspection at his office, without fee.
3. To the Registrar-General, to be open for inspection at the General Register Office, without fee.

That it shall be competent for the Registrar-General, or other officer as aforesaid, under the sanction of the Secretary of State for the Home Department, to make such other regulations, for the inspection and examination of the Registers so deposited, as may from time to time be deemed advisable.

The Registers of British Subjects transmitted from beyond Seas to the Bishop of London's Registry.

With respect to these, we advise that they should be transferred to the same place of Deposit, and be admissible in evidence, on the same footing and subject to the same regulations as we have recommended with respect to the Registers of the Dissenting Congregations.

The Registers of the Fleet and King's Bench Prisons, the Mint in Southwark, and the May Fair Chapel.

These Registers stand on other and less favourable grounds; we have no satisfactory account of their custody before they were deposited in the Registry of the Diocese of London; many of them abound in interpolations and erasures; in several entries occur in a long series, evidently written in one and the same hand and at the same time; there is a general want of authentication by witnesses, or by the signature of the parties between whom the marriage ceremony purports to have been solemnized, and, whenever these Registers have become the subject of judicial examination, they have been considered as bearing a very questionable character. We therefore think it right not to include them in our recommendations, except so far as to suggest that they should be deposited in the same place with the other Registers.

We, whose names are hereunto subscribed, humbly offer to Your Majesty this Report and these Recommendations, for Your Royal consideration.

Total Number of Entries . . . 48,975

A Register, containing 830 Baptisms and 7 Births.

Statement (to which the Report refers) of the method in which the General Register at Dr. Williams's Library has been kept.

This Register has been maintained under the supervision of the Committee of Deputies; the Librarian of the Library in Redcross Street, London, having, by the permission of the Trustees of that Institution, always acted as Registrar. According to the original plan of this Register, the parties produced to the Registrar Duplicate Certificates on parchment, which have for the most part, with some slight variations at different periods, been in the following form:—

No. . . . .

These are to Certify, that . . . . . of . . . . .

and . . . . . his Wife, who was Daughter of . . . . .

was Born in . . . . . in the Parish of . . . . . in the County of . . . . . this . . . . . day of . . . . . in the Year . . . . . at whose Birth we were present. . . . .

Let this be Registered.

The Midwife and one or two other Persons present must sign this.

The Registrar entered the particulars contained in this Document in a tabular form in a book kept by him, each entry corresponding in number with the number of the Certificate. He then filed and preserved one of the original Certificates, and returned the other, with his Certificate of Registration, to the parties. He also formed and kept an Alphabetical Index referring to the tabular record, and thereby consequently to the original Certificate.

To ensure the accuracy and regularity of this scheme of registration the Deputies have been in the habit of constantly, and for the most part yearly, nominating a Sub-committee, who examined all the Documents, comparing the original Certificates with the tabular records, and certifying the result of their examination from time to time in the book.

All these original Certificates (being 30,417 in number) are, with the trifling exception of about 13, now preserved most carefully, and regularly arranged in boxes containing 1000 each, so that any one of them can, from the earliest commencement of the series, be referred to without the slightest difficulty.

It appears that probably without any close examination of the nature of this Institution, but from regard to the regularity of its form and the high probability of its truth, it was frequently admitted for legal purposes in courts of justice. About the year 1826, however, the attention of the then Master of the Rolls having been drawn to the real nature of the evidence thus produced, which rested in fact on the mere voluntary declaration of witnesses who might or might not be parents or relatives, he refused to receive it as legal evidence of the facts it contained.

The attention of the Deputies being thus attracted to the subject, they advised with counsel of eminence, whose opinion was in substance that there was no mode of placing the Register on the footing of Parochial Registers, that the Certificates taken as mere declarations of witnesses would be inadmissible as evidence, but that Certificates signed by the parents or one of them would be evidence as their declaration, and admissible as such in courts of justice; and moreover that they would be entitled to more weight than the ordinary entry in a Bible, or other book or paper, because the document was made more publicly and solemnly, and in the presence of persons likely to detect or prevent fraud or inaccuracy.

It was then determined in some measure to remodel the Register, and a new form was adopted for the Duplicate Certificates. These were thenceforth printed on paper, and of such a uniform size that those retained by the Registrar might (after being numbered consecutively) be bound in volumes. This amended Certificate was in such a form as to make it at all events amount to a direct and formal declaration of the parents, and receivable as such in evidence on proof of their hand-writing; and it moreover contained the signatures of two witnesses, so as to afford every clue to direct testimony to the fact of Birth, when such should be required.

In lieu of the old books containing the tabular arrangement of the contents of the Certificates, and the further book constituting the Alphabetical Index, the Deputies substituted a more detailed index, in which were at once entered, alphabetically, the leading contents of the Certificate, referring to it by its number in the volumes of Certificates. The Record has therefore thenceforth consisted merely of two books, namely, the bound volumes of original Certificates and the Alphabetical Index or Calendar referring thereto.

Since the commencement of the new system up to the 31st day of December, 1837, when the Registry was closed by the direction of the before-mentioned body of Deputies, there have been recorded 18,558 Births.

The form under the new system was the following:—

No. . . . . Dated the . . . . . day of . . . . . 183 . . . . .

This is to Certify and Declare, that . . . . . the . . . . .

of . . . . . of . . . . . in the . . . . . of . . . . .

. . . . . and . . . . . his Wife (who was the Daughter of . . . . . of . . . . . in the . . . . . of . . . . . )

was born at the house of . . . . . in . . . . . in the . . . . .

of . . . . . on the . . . . . day of . . . . . 18 . . . . .

} The Parents above-named.

We Certify and Declare that we were present at the Birth of the child above-mentioned; and that such Birth took place at the time and place aforesaid.

Received, Filed, and Registered, according to the custom in use among Protestant Dissenters at the Registry of Births, kept at Dr. Williams's Library, Redcross Street, Cripplegate, London, this . . . . . day of . . . . . 18 . . . . . by me, , _____Registrar.

In addition to the above system of Registration of Births, the Deputies, about the year 1768, sanctioned a plan for entering in books, to be also kept at Dr. Williams's Library for the purpose, copies of the Congregational Baptismal Registers kept by Dissenting Ministers. Such copies were to be certified by the Dissenting Ministers whose acts and entries they were, and thus in fact the books to be kept by the Registrar at the Library were to be made duplicate Baptismal Register books of the Ministers acting on the plan in question.

The Baptismal entries actually deposited on this plan are contained partly in one of the general Tabular Register books above noticed (being that distinguished in the list as Register A., which contains 36 such entries) and partly in a separate book (described in the list as Register Book No. 2). This latter contains 830 entries of Baptisms between the years 1747 and 1778, forming the entries of five Ministers eminent among the Dissenters in their day. This plan, however, was little used, and no entries have been made since 1778.

Statement (to which the Report refers) of the method in which the General Register at Paternoster Row has been kept.

The Wesleyan Metropolitan Registry was established in 1818. The Registrar furnishes the Ministers on the various circuits with printed forms on parchment, which are signed by the parents of the child, the witnesses at the Birth, and the Minister who baptized the child. These forms are signed in duplicate and transmitted to the Registry—the Registrar thereupon enters the particulars in a large folio Register, and adds to the printed forms a Certificate of the date of such Registration, with the number and folio of the book where these particulars are entered. He returns to the parents the duplicate at the bottom, and keeps the duplicate at the top himself, as his authority for making the entry in the Register.

The following are the forms above referred to, which are printed on one piece of parchment:

I do hereby certify that the foregoing Schedule contains, according to the best of my belief, a true account of the Registers belonging to the several Meetings of the Society of Friends in England and Wales, which have been sent up by the Registering Officers, and which are for the present under my care.

(Signed)

WILLIAM MANLEY,

Recording-Clerk of the Society of Friends, at their Central Office in London.

Statement (to which the Report refers) of the method in which the Quakers' Registers have been kept.

The rule of the Society is, that two Birth-notes are to be properly filled up, inserting the father's occupation, or other usual addition, and signed; if there is more than one child at a birth, each child is to be mentioned in the Birth-note in the order of birth, and in such case an additional note or notes are to be executed, these several notes to be alike in all respects; then there are other regulations as to how these Birth-notes are to be stated, and to whom they are to be referred. In every monthly meeting, signifying a district meeting, more proper persons are to be appointed to give out Birth-notes and Burial-notes, to fill them up accurately to the prescribed form, or to take care that the same are properly done, and also to enter in the check-margin appointed for the purpose a statement of the persons to whom such notes are delivered, and of all other requisite particulars; the margins to be accurately preserved. In every monthly meeting a suitable friend is to be appointed as Registrar of Marriages, Births, and Burials. The Registers of Births and Burials are to be made agreeable to the following plans, and are to be entered by the Friend appointed as Registrar of the Birth-notes and Burial-notes, after they have passed the monthly meeting. No mistake that happens to be made in a Register is to be erased, but must be corrected by drawing a line through the statement, so as to leave it legible, and what should have been written is to be inserted near it, and to be authenticated by the Registrar signing the initials of his name throughout. No contractions are to be used in filling up the usual form of Registers, except that, in the latter, dates, &c., may be expressed by figures. Birth-notes and Burial-notes are to be taken to the monthly meeting, there read, and the duplicate or triplicate, &c., as the case may be. Birth-notes compared, and all signed by the Clerk. Birth-note is to be delivered to the Registrar, and the other or others given to the parties. The Registrar, after entering the notes in the book kept for that purpose, is to forward them to the quarterly meeting, generally a county meeting, at least once within the year, when they are placed in a proper book, and indexed.

Burials are to be registered in the monthly meeting at which the Burial-ground is situated, and if the deceased was not a member of such monthly meeting, the Burial-note is to be forwarded to the monthly meeting to which said deceased person did belong; children who have not a birth-right in this religious society may be registered, on application made for the purpose; burials of persons not members of this religious society may also take place in their burial-grounds, provided they be in all respects conducted as the burial of Friends; in both instances it is to be entered in the notes and Register that the individuals are not members of the society; monthly meetings are to make a record of those of whom Birth-notes or Marriage-registers have been produced, and when the record is of the birth or burial of a person not a member of the religious society, the same is to be briefly noticed in the minute. The Friend who gives out the Birth or Burial-note is to notice such cases as are last described, and to report the same to the monthly meeting. In case of a witness not being able to write, his mark is to be attested by the signature of any other person; monthly meetings are to appoint committees to ascertain the correctness of the Registers, and also to see that the indexes at the ends of the respective Register-books are regularly kept up; quarterly meetings are to pay due attention to the Registers under their care; the Registrar for the quarterly meeting is to transmit once every year to the Registrar of each monthly meeting within the compass of the said quarterly meeting, a list of the Birth and Burial-notes belonging to the said monthly meeting respectively, and which have been affixed in the Registry-books of the quarterly meetings during the past year; such list to contain the particulars pointed out in the form of monthly meetings' Registers, and to be compared with the same Registers by the committee annually appointed, agreeably to the rule above.

Two Registers of all Marriages, agreeably to the following form, are to be signed at a convenient time on the day of marriage by the parties themselves and three witnesses, the latter to add place of abode and occupation. The Registers are to be delivered at the monthly meeting next occurring, to which the woman belongs, to be there carefully examined; one of them to be carefully preserved in the book kept for that purpose belonging to the monthly meeting, the other to be taken to a quarterly meeting, to be fixed in the proper book and indexed; care is to be taken in filling up the above form to insert the occupation or usual addition as well as the residence of the several persons mentioned in it. If the woman has been previously married, she should be described as the widow of her last husband. If the man be a member of a different society, a notification in the following form is to be sent to the monthly meeting to which the man belongs, and the said meeting is desired to enter on its minutes a copy thereof.

One copy of Burials and Births, and two copies of Marriages are preserved in addition to the certificate, which is drawn up upon a stamp, signed by the parties and numerous witnesses at the time of the marriage.

The duplicate of the memorandum of birth and interment is delivered to the parties: a duplicate of burial is rarely called for, but it is given if requested: in the cases of marriage the parties keep the certificate drawn up in the meeting at which they were married, of which that record is presumed to be a faithful abstract.

RULES RESPECTING REGISTERS.

The method to be observed in the Registry of Marriages, Births, and Burials.

One of them is to be securely preserved in the book kept for that purpose, belonging to the monthly meeting, and the other is to be taken to the quarterly meeting, to be fixed in the proper book and indexed.

5. In every monthly meeting a suitable Friend is to be appointed as Registrar of Marriages, Births, and Burials. The Registers of Births and Burials are to be made agreeably to the following plans; and they are to be entered by the Friend appointed as Registrar, from the Birth-notes and Burial-notes, after they have passed the monthly meeting.

6. No mistake that happens to be made in a Register is to be erased, but to be corrected by drawing a line through the same, so as to leave it legible; and what should have been written is to be inserted near it, and to be authenticated by the Registrar's signing the initials of his name thereto. No contractions are to be used either in filling up any of the foregoing forms, or in the registers, except that, in the latter, dates, &c. may be expressed by figures.

7. Birth-notes and Burial-notes are to be taken to the monthly meeting, there read, and the duplicate (or triplicate, &c., as the case may be) Birth-notes compared, and all signed by the Clerk; one Birth-note is to be delivered to the Registrar, and the other or others given to the parents: the Registrar, after entering the notes in the book kept for that purpose, and filling up the index, is to forward them to the quarterly meeting, at least once within the year, when they are to be fixed into a proper book and indexed.

8. Burials are to be registered in the monthly meeting in which the Burial-ground is situated, and if the deceased were not a member of such monthly meeting, the Burial-note is to be afterwards forwarded to the monthly meeting to which such deceased person did belong, to be there also registered, and sent from that meeting only to the quarterly meeting. But seeing that the Burial-grounds in the six monthly meetings of London are the joint property of those meetings, it shall suffice that Burials within the limits of those meetings be registered in the monthly meeting to which the deceased did belong, and the Burial-notes taken thence to the quarterly meeting.

9. Children who have not a birthright in this religious society may be registered upon application made for that purpose. Burials of persons, not members of this religious society, may also take place in their Burial-grounds, provided they be in all respects, conducted as the burials of Friends are conducted. In both instances it is to be noted on the notes and in the register, that the individuals are not in membership with them. Friends are to exercise discretion in complying with any application that may be made in the before-mentioned cases.

10. Monthly meetings are in all cases to make a record on their minutes of the names of those for whom Birth and Burial-notes or Marriage-registers have been produced, and when the record is of the birth or burial of any one who was not a member of this religious society, the same is to be briefly noticed in the minute. The Friend who gives out the Birth or Burial-note is to notice such cases as are last described in the check which he keeps, and to report the same to the monthly meeting.

11. In the case of any witness not being able to write, the affixing of his or her mark is to be attested by the signature of another person.

12. Monthly meetings are annually to appoint a committee to examine the Registers of Marriages, Births, and Burials, which committee is to ascertain that all Marriages are duly and correctly registered; and that all Birth and Burial-notes which have been given out have been delivered to the monthly meeting, and afterwards duly and correctly registered; and also that the indexes at the ends of the respective register-books are regularly kept up. Quarterly meetings are also to pay due attention in this way to the Registers under their care.

13. The Registrar for the quarterly meeting is to transmit once every year to the Registrar of each monthly meeting, within the compass of the said quarterly meeting, a list of the Birth and Burial-notes belonging to the said monthly meetings respectively, and which have been fixed in the Register-books of the quarterly meeting during the past year. Such list is to contain the particulars pointed out in the form of monthly meeting Registers, and is to be compared with the said Registers by the committee of the monthly meeting annually appointed, agreeably to Rule 12.

N.B. The provisions contained in these rules relative to quarterly meetings are to be understood as applying also to half-year's meetings; and those relative to monthly meetings as applying to the two months' meeting of Edinburgh.

COMMISSION.

Victoria, by the Grace of God of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Queen, Defender of the Faith, to Our trusty and well-beloved SAMUEL GALE, Esquire, JOHN SOUTHERDEN BURN, Esquire, GEORGE GRAHAM, Esquire, ROBERT LUSH, Esquire, Barrister-at-law, WILLIAM PALMER PARKEN, Esquire, Barrister-at-law, HORACE MANN, Esquire, Barrister-at-law, and HULL TERRELL, Esquire, Greeting, Whereas His late Majesty King William the Fourth, by Letters Patent, bearing date the Thirteenth day of September, in the Seventh Year of His reign, did appoint certain persons therein named to be Commissioners for inquiring into the state, custody, and authenticity of any such Registers or Records of Births or Baptisms, Deaths or Burials, and Marriages lawfully solemnized, as had been theretofore or were then kept in England and Wales other than the Parochial Registers; and by Letters Patent under the Great Seal, bearing date the Twenty-sixth day of October, in the First Year of Our reign, We were pleased to renew the said Commission, and to continue the said Commissioners in such employment: And whereas Our said Commissioners did make their Report to Us upon the several matters submitted for their consideration, and an Act of Parliament founded on such Report was passed in the Session of Parliament holden in the Third and Fourth Years of Our Reign, intituled "An Act for enabling Courts of Justice to admit Non-parochial Registers as Evidence of Births or Baptisms, Deaths or Burials, and Marriages:" And whereas it hath been humbly represented unto Us that there are still remaining in the possession of the Society commonly called the "Society of Friends," a considerable number of Volumes and Bundles of Records, containing many thousand entries of Births, Deaths, and Marriages which were entirely overlooked when the said Society, in the Year One thousand eight hundred and forty-one, surrendered One thousand four hundred and thirty-two volumes, containing similar entries, into the hands of the Commissioners, which they anxiously desire to surrender to Our Registrar-General; and also that there are good grounds for believing that not only are numerous Non-parochial Registers of a like nature still scattered over Our Kingdom of England and Wales, but that the Congregations or Individuals in whose hands they remain would gladly embrace the opportunity of having the same duly authenticated and placed in legal custody: Now know ye, that We, taking such representation into Our Royal consideration, are graciously pleased to constitute and appoint you, the said SAMUEL GALE, JOHN SOUTHERDEN BURN, GEORGE GRAHAM, ROBERT LUSH, WILLIAM PALMER PARKEN, HORACE MANN, and HULL TERRELL to be Our COMMISSIONERS to inquire into the state, custody, and authenticity of any such Registers or Records of Births or Baptisms, Deaths or Burials, and Marriages lawfully solemnized, other than the Parochial Registers and the copies thereof deposited with the Diocesan Registrars, and which have not been inquired into and examined by Our former Commissioners; and also for inquiring whether any and what measures can be beneficially adopted for collecting and arranging all or any of such Registers or Records, and for depositing the same, or copies thereof, in the Office of the Registrar General of Births, Deaths, and Marriages in England, or for otherwise preserving the same; and also for considering and advising the proper measures to be adopted for giving full force and effect, as Evidence, in all Courts of Justice to all such Registers as are found accurate and faithful, and for facilitating the production and reception of the same: And We do hereby authorize and empower you, Our said Commissioners, or any three or more of you, to obtain information thereupon by the examination of all persons most competent by reason of their situation, knowledge, or experience to afford it, and also by calling for all Documents, Papers, and Records which may appear to you, or any three or more of you, calculated to assist your researches and to promote the formation of a sound judgment on the subject: And We do also hereby give and grant unto you, or any three or more of you, full power and authority, when the same shall appear to be requisite, to administer an Oath or Oaths to any person or persons whatsoever to be examined before you, or any three or more of you, touching or concerning the premises: And We do hereby require and command you, or any three or more of you, to report to Us, in writing under your hands and seals, on or before the First day of January, One Thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, your several proceedings by virtue of this Our Commission: And We will and command that this Our Commission shall continue in full force and virtue, and that you, Our said Commissioners, or any three or more of you, may from time to time proceed in the execution thereof, and of every matter and thing herein contained, although the same be not continued from time to time by adjournment: And We hereby command all and singular Our Justices of the Peace, Mayors, Sheriffs, Bailiffs, Constables, Officers, Ministers, and all other Our loving subjects whatsoever, as well within liberties as without, that they be assistant to you and each of you in the execution of these presents: And for your further assistance in the execution of these presents, We do hereby authorize and empower you, or any three or more of you, to appoint a Secretary to this Our Commission, whose services and assistance We require you to use from time to time as occasion may require.

In witness whereof We have caused these Our Letters to be made Patent. Witness Ourselves at Westminster, the First day of January in the Twentieth Year of Our Reign.

REPORT.

TO THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY.

WE, Your Majesty's Commissioners appointed by Your Majesty's Letters Patent of the 1st of January last to inquire into the state, custody, and authenticity of certain Non-parochial Registers or Records in England and Wales, humbly offer to Your Majesty the following Report of our several proceedings by virtue of Your Majesty's said Commission.

In order to define accurately the subject matter of the inquiry intrusted to us, we deem it advisable to refer to the proceedings and results of a former Commission issued by His late Majesty King William the Fourth on the 13th September 1836, and continued by Your Majesty's Letters Patent of 26th October 1837, and renewed by an Act passed in the session holden in the 3rd and 4th years of Your Majesty's reign, Chapter 92.

The persons appointed under those Commissions were directed to inquire into the state, custody, and authenticity of any such registers or records of births or baptisms, deaths or burials, and marriages lawfully solemnized, as had been theretofore or were then kept in England and Wales other than the parochial registers and the copies thereof deposited with the Diocesan Registrars; and also to inquire whether any and what measures could be beneficially adopted for collecting and arranging all or any of such registers or records, and for depositing the same or copies thereof in the Office of the Registrar General of Births, Deaths, and Marriages in England, or for otherwise preserving the same; and also to consider and advise the proper measures to be adopted for giving full force and effect as evidence in all courts of justice to all such registers as should be found accurate and faithful, and for facilitating the production and reception of the same: and the result of their proceedings was a Report, the recommendations of which were embodied in the Act of Parliament above mentioned, the principal provisions of the said Act being that about 8,500 registers found by the said Commissioners to be accurate and faithful should be deposited with the Registrar General, and should then be deemed to be in legal custody and be receivable in evidence in all courts of justice, subject to certain provisions in the said Act specified, and that the Registrar General should then permit searches in the said registers and give certified extracts therefrom.

It appears, however, that a considerable number of registers and records in all respects similar to those above referred to were not submitted to the said Commissioners, and were consequently not reported upon by them nor admitted to the benefits conferred by the said Act of Parliament, while others of a like nature have been kept since the date of the former Commissions, and it is to these several registers and records that our duties under Your Majesty's present Commission relate, those duties (precisely similar to the duties imposed upon the former Commissioners) being,—

- I. To inquire into the state, custody, and authenticity of any such registers or records.
- II. To inquire whether any and what measures can be beneficially adopted for collecting and arranging all or any of them, and for depositing the same, or copies thereof, in the Office of the Registrar General of Births, Deaths, and Marriages in England, or for otherwise preserving the same.

- III. To consider and advise the proper measures to be adopted for giving full force and effect as evidence in all courts of justice to all such registers as are found accurate and faithful, and for facilitating the production and reception of the same.

At our first meeting we appointed Mr. James Thomas Hammack as our Secretary. We then, in obedience to Your Majesty's commands, directed our attention to each of the above-mentioned points.

I. In order to ascertain the state, custody, and authenticity of such non-parochial registers as were not inquired into by the former Commissioners, our first proceeding was to adopt measures for making known as extensively as possible the existence and objects of the present Commission. This we endeavoured to effect by the following means:—

By public notice inserted in many of the newspapers and other publications, especially in those circulating among the various dissenting bodies.

By communicating with the persons having authority in the several associations of Nonconformists in London, to secure their co-operation in bringing the objects of the inquiry under the notice of their respective members through their annual meetings or otherwise.

By circular letters addressed to the secretaries of local associations throughout the country, requesting them to call attention to the subject at the spring meetings of their various societies.

By special applications to the trustees and proprietors of burial grounds closed by Orders in Council. And,

By applications addressed to all other persons presumed or known to have non-parochial registers in their possession.

It was also thought right to bring the objects of the Commission to the notice of Cardinal Wiseman on behalf of the Roman Catholics in England, of the President of the Board of Deputies of the British Jews, and of the Court of Directors of the Honourable East India Company.

The result of these various measures has been the transmission to our Board of 292 registers or records, viz:—

	Registers.
From the Society of Friends	124
" Independents or Congregationalists	53
" Wesleyan Methodists	38
" Baptists	18
" Countess of Huntingdon's Connexion	13
" Presbyterians, or Unitarians	9
" German Lutherans	8
" Scottish Presbyterians	7
" Moravians or United Brethren	3
" Governors of Greenwich Hospital	11
" " Chelsea Hospital	4
" " The Foundling Hospital	2
" " Bunhill Fields Burial Ground	2
	Total 292

The applications with reference to the registers belonging to the Roman Catholics and the Jews have been productive of no good result. Cardinal Wiseman, on behalf of the first-named body, intimates that they are unwilling to deliver up their registers, because they are required much more on account of foreign or ecclesiastical demands than for domestic civil purposes, and because in Catholic countries no merely civil certificate is sufficient for such demands, it being requisite that the documents should be extracted from the register by the Priest in charge of the church or chapel where the entry was made, and be accompanied by a declaration, signed and sealed by the Catholic Bishop, that the person whose signature is affixed holds such office and is entitled to full credence. The President of the Board of Deputies of British Jews states that the British Jews decline to part with their registers on account of their being continually required for religious as well as civil purposes, and of their being mostly in the Hebrew language.

The Court of Directors of the East India Company, in reply to our application respecting the records of baptisms, marriages, and burials in India which are deposited at the East India House, state that they are of opinion that the convenience and interests of the public will be best consulted by allowing those documents to remain in their present place of deposit, where they are easily accessible to all persons who seek for information connected with India.

Mention may also be made here of another class of Records, which have not been received by the Commissioners, viz<sup>t</sup>,—Family Bibles containing entries of the births, deaths, and other particulars relative to the different members of families. Several applications have been made to us from parties desirous of placing such books in the custody of the Registrar General, and thus preserving them against the risk of loss or destruction; but as it was considered that the terms of our Commission do not authorize us to deal with records of this nature, we have declined to receive them, and we have felt the less hesitation in pursuing this course, inasmuch as such records (unlike the non-parochial registers which form the real subject of our inquiry) are already admissible in evidence, if produced under certain conditions.

With respect to the 292 registers actually received; as above mentioned, we first endeavoured to ascertain, by satisfactory evidence, that at the time of their transmission to us they were and had previously been in the custody of persons sustaining some official character in relation to them. With this view we required that each book or record should be accompanied by a certificate signed by the custodian, stating by whom it had been kept from time to time, and also in what capacity (whether as minister, trustee, or other officer of the congregation) it had been held by the person from whose immediate custody it was forwarded to us, as well as the date since which it had been in his possession. Having satisfied ourselves as far as possible that the registers had been transmitted to us from proper custody, we proceeded to examine them, in order to ascertain whether their contents were such as might be advantageously legalized as evidence by an Act of the Legislature. To each of the registers or records (265 in all), which after this examination were judged to be accurate and faithful, a certificate to that effect, signed by three of our Board, has been affixed. There were certain cases, however, where only some of the entries were found accurate and faithful, and in these cases the Certificate has been so framed as clearly to distinguish such entries from the rest, and to confine the sanction of the Commissioners to the unobjectionable portion of the registers. To facilitate a future identification of these several portions, as well as to secure other useful ends; the whole of the registers have been consecutively paged. A complete list of the registers thus wholly or partially sanctioned by us has been prepared; and is annexed to this Report (see Appendix A.)

Of the volumes and bundles of registers received from the Society of Friends, 120 were considered proper to be authenticated. They consist chiefly of the earlier registers and records kept by the quarterly and monthly meetings of the society, and contain about 35,000 entries. As many of these books comprised also minutes and entries, mostly relating to religious tenets, sufferings and discipline, which the meetings were unwilling to part with, we have in several instances, in compliance with their wishes, allowed the matter irrelevant to registration to be detached and returned to them. In each of these cases we have affixed a certificate to the register, explaining the cause of the removal of some of its leaves.

Next in point of numbers are the registers received from the Independents; of these we have authenticated 45 volumes relating to 34 congregations, and containing about 17,000 entries. The Wesleyan Methodists have deposited 32 registers, which contain upwards of 26,000 entries; and from the Baptists, Lady Huntingdon's Connexion, and a few other religious denominations, 49 books, comprising about 126,800 entries, have been received. The governors of Greenwich Hospital, Chelsea Hospital, and the Foundling Hospital have deposited with us the registers kept by the respective chaplains of those establishments, from their first institution down to within a recent date, in almost unbroken series; and the corporation of the City of London have surrendered the registers of the burials in Bunhill Fields Burial Ground since the year 1838, in continuation of the records from the same place already in the custody of the Registrar General.

The aggregate number of authenticated entries comprised in the 265 registers received from all sources is about 254,000.

Our applications to the proprietors or trustees of burial grounds closed by orders of Your Majesty in Council have resulted in the receipt of several registers; indeed, most of the records of burials of a recent date relate to chapel graveyards and other public burial grounds no longer open for interments. The proprietors of private burial grounds, however, probably from an unwillingness to relinquish the emoluments derived from searches and extracts, have evinced no readiness to deposit their registers with us, although it has been intimated in more than one instance that there would be no objection to surrender them for a pecuniary consideration. We have been informed by the trustees of several closed burial grounds that no records of a nature suitable for transmission to us have been kept.

It will be seen from Appendix A. that many of the registers of baptisms and burials relate to periods subsequent to the 1st of July 1837, when the system of civil registration, established by the Act of 6 and 7 Will. IV. cap. 86., was commenced. As provision is made by that Statute for registering births and deaths, as well as for rendering information relative to those events readily accessible to the public, it might be thought that mere records of baptisms and burials possessed no value for legal purposes, and that no useful end would be gained by their being deposited in the custody of a public officer, and made receivable in evidence in courts of justice.

It has been represented to us, however, that owing partly to the negligence and ignorance of parents, and partly to a defect in the Registration Act, which imposes no penalty upon persons neglecting to give notice to the registrar, there are many births which have not been registered. The omissions during the first few years after the introduction of the new system are known to have been considerable; and as no birth can be lawfully registered after six months from the date of its occurrence, while the rite of baptism can be administered at any age, it is not improbable that names inscribed in baptismal registers are in some instances not to be found in the registers of births. As regards burial registers it is found that they still possess some value, not from any incompleteness in the registration of deaths (for nearly every death is registered with the Registrar General), but from the fact of a certificate of burial being required in certain cases by the Bank of England, the Court of Chancery, and some of the Life Assurance Offices. From these considerations we have thought it right, so far as registers of baptisms and burials are concerned, not to limit our inquiry to books kept prior to the operation of the Registration Act.

II. With respect to the second point of our inquiry, vizt., whether any and what measures can be beneficially adopted for collecting and arranging all or any of these registers or records, and for depositing the same, or copies thereof, in the Office of the Registrar General, or for otherwise preserving the same, we are of opinion that the 265 registers now collected should be placed in the custody of the Registrar General, to be by him arranged in such order as he may find most expedient along with the registers which are already in his possession by virtue of the Act passed in the 4th year of Your Majesty's reign, Chapter 92. We have personally inspected the place of deposit in Somerset House which the Registrar General has provided for the last-mentioned registers, and find it to be admirably adapted for the purpose of preserving them, consisting of spacious fireproof rooms well warmed with hot-water pipes. In these rooms the registers, reported on by the former Commissioners are arranged in such a manner as to be readily referred to, and we can suggest no better measures with respect to the documents now under consideration than that they should be deposited in the same place and arranged in a similar manner.

III. We have given very careful attention to the questions included under the third head of our inquiry, and so far as regards the proper measures for giving full force and effect as evidence in all courts of justice to all such registers as are found accurate and faithful, we consider that as the registers now sanctioned by us are in no respect different in character from those sanctioned by the former Commissioners, the provisions of the above-mentioned Statute are strictly applicable to them, and should be actually applied to them by an Act of Parliament to be obtained for that purpose. As, however, we have already adopted such means of distinguishing the registers which we find to be accurate and faithful as will ensure their subsequent identification, it appears to us that the Act proposed for this occasion, instead of requiring any further process of authentication, might simply refer to and recognize those registers which have been thus distinguished, and which we have caused to be enumerated in the list which forms Appendix A. to this Report.

So also with regard to the proper measures to be adopted for facilitating the production and reception of these registers, we are of opinion that the provisions contained in sections 5, 6, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, and 19 of the before-mentioned Act of Parliament are appropriate for effecting that object with all needful precautions, and that they should be re-enacted for that purpose.

An additional means, however, of facilitating the production of these registers has been brought before us, to which we are disposed to attach considerable importance. We have had pressed upon our notice the fact, that very great difficulties are at present frequently experienced in discovering entries in the non-parochial registers already deposited with the Registrar General, when the parties searching for such entries are not able to state precise particulars of the time and locality at which the recorded events occurred; and it has been represented to us that an alphabetical index of names would ensure a speedy reference to whatever entries might be sought for, and greatly facilitate their production in courts of justice or elsewhere. An index of this description has, we learn, been already formed on a most elaborate plan of the entries of all the births, deaths, and marriages which have been registered in England and Wales since June 1837. This representation appears to us to possess considerable force; and we are of opinion that the Registrar General should have the power of causing such an index of the non-parochial registers to be prepared, leaving it in his discretion whether the whole number of registers should be thus indexed or certain portions only. In connexion with this point we may refer to the fact, that the Registrar General has informed us that he has had submitted to him, and has under his consideration, the draft of a Bill proposed to be introduced into Parliament for providing the means of framing a general index to all the Parochial registers in England and Wales since 1701, or such other period as may be deemed sufficiently remote,—a scheme which, if carried out, would unquestionably facilitate, to an extent which can scarcely be too highly appreciated, the production and preservation of these important national records. Formally to recommend such a scheme does not come within the range of our duties under Your Majesty's Commission, but we allude to the possibility of the adoption of such a measure with respect to the parochial registers, as an additional reason for recommending the same course with respect to the non-parochial registers, in order to provide one central means of reference for all descriptions of entries.

We have thus reported upon all the matters referred to our consideration, having throughout our proceedings endeavoured to follow, as nearly as might be, the course pursued by the former Commissioners (who devoted much time and ability to the subject of their labours), in order that as little distinction as possible might exist between the treatment applied to the registers deposited with the Registrar General under the provisions of the before-mentioned Act of Parliament, and that adopted towards those which we now recommend to be added to them.

On full consideration, therefore, of all the matters referred to us, we submit to Your Majesty the following recommendations:—

1. That a Bill be introduced into Parliament providing that the registers or records now in our custody, and certified in the manner described, should be deposited in the General Register Office, in the custody of the Registrar General of Births, Deaths, and Marriages in England, and should then be deemed to be in legal custody, and be receivable as evidence in all courts of justice, subject in all respects to the provisions contained in sections 5 to 19 inclusive of the Act passed in the fourth year of Your Majesty's reign. Chapter 92., and to all the rules, orders, and regulations now existing or hereafter to be made with reference to the non-parochial registers deposited in the General Register Office pursuant to the said Act.

2. That in the said Bill a clause be introduced requiring the Registrar General to cause indexes to be made to the registers deposited with him by and under the authority of the said Act of the fourth year of Your Majesty's reign, Chapter 92., and also to the registers now recommended to be deposited with him, or to such portions of them respectively as he may from time to time think proper.

All which we humbly submit to Your Majesty's most gracious consideration.

Witness our hands and seals, this Thirty-first day of December, One thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven.

APPENDIX B.

CIRCULAR LETTERS ISSUED BY THE COMMISSIONERS.

GENERAL CIRCULAR RESPECTING THE OBJECTS OF THE INQUIRY.

Non-Parochial Registers Commission,
General Register Office,
Somerset House, London (W. C.),
1st March, 1857.

SIR,

HER Majesty having issued a new Commission for the purpose of inquiring into the state, custody, and authenticity of Non-parochial Registers, I am directed by the Commissioners to make known to you the specific objects proposed by the inquiry; and these will be best explained by a brief statement of the circumstances which have led to the issue of the Commission.

In the year 1836 Commissioners were appointed to inquire into the state of all Registers or Records (not being parochial) of Births or Baptisms, Deaths or Burials, and Marriages duly solemnized, with a view to some legislative provision to ensure the safe preservation of such of them as might be found trustworthy and authentic, and to give to them full force and effect as legal evidence in judicial proceedings. A large number of the Nonconformist congregations, possessed of records of the nature referred to, gladly availed themselves of the opportunity thus offered, and transmitted their Registers to the Commissioners. About 7,000 register books, from upwards of 3,600 religious congregations, besides about 1,500 Registers from the Society of Friends, from Dr. Williams's library, and from other sources, were, after careful examination and inquiry, pronounced to be authentic and admissible. The Commissioners, in their Report, recommended that these Registers should be kept together in a secure place of deposit, under the care of the Registrar General; that they should be then deemed to be in legal custody; that they, or certified copies of them, should be receivable as evidence in all courts of justice; and that such certified copies or extracts should be given to the public under certain regulations, upon payment of a moderate fee.

These several recommendations were embodied in an Act of Parliament, passed in 1840, "For enabling Courts of Justice to admit Non-parochial Registers as Evidence of Births or Baptisms, Deaths or Burials, and Marriages" (3 & 4 Viet. cap. 92); and pursuant to its provisions, all the Registers examined and certified by the former Commissioners have been placed in the custody of the Registrar-General, and are now deposited in fire-proof rooms at the General Register Office, Somerset House, where searches and certified copies are granted.

Amongst the Registers thus deposited are 1,432 volumes—all kept with characteristic order and precision—which were received from the Society of Friends; they contain more than 600,000 entries, and are naturally highly valued. Since depositing them, however, a considerable number of additional Registers belonging to the Society, which were accidentally overlooked when the others were collected, have been discovered; and it is now desired to have them also duly authenticated and placed with the others in the custody of the Registrar-General.

To enable the Society of Friends to accomplish this object, and at the same time to afford to other religious communities, or to individuals who may be in possession of any Registers of a like nature, an opportunity of securing an extension to them of benefits similar to those conferred by the Act above cited, the present Commission has been issued. The same general course of proceeding will be pursued as upon the former occasion; the immediate result contemplated from the Commissioners' labours being a legislative enactment to secure the safe preservation of the additional Records, to render them always and readily accessible, and to give to them the same force and effect as legal evidence which have been acquired by those already deposited. The attainment of these objects is obviously important to the general interests of the community, and especially to the religious denominations to which any of the books may belong. It is, however, quite impossible that any measure can be recommended for giving increased validity and value to such Records, except upon the condition of their being deposited with a public officer, from whom authentic extracts and certificates may be easily procured.

I am desired further to state that, so far as regards Registers of Baptisms and Burials, it is not intended to limit the present inquiry to books kept prior to the operation of the Registration Act (6 & 7 Will. 4. cap. 86). The Commissioners will not object to receive for authentication Registers of Baptisms and Burials (whether commencing before or after 1st July, 1837) extending over any period down to the present time. An opportunity will thus be afforded of giving effect as legal evidence to Registers kept for burial grounds and cemeteries—a matter of some importance, since many Burial grounds have been closed by Orders in Council during the last four years, and the Registers have unavoidably been left in private hands.

The Commissioners cannot receive copies of Registers where the parties have the power to send the original Registers. Where the objection to parting with an original Register proceeds either from its containing records of matters unconnected with registration, or from the apprehension of its being wanted for local reference, the Commissioners conceive that the objection will be obviated by a correct copy of the book being kept by the parties, which copy would be of equal utility for all purposes of reference. The Board will not object, however, to the separation, under their own inspection, of any portions not relative to registration contained in the books sent to them, and they will return such separated portions to the parties; but Registers must be transmitted to them without mutilation.

The Commissioners being required to report the result of their inquiry on or before the 1st January next, are desirous of proceeding without loss of time in the discharge of the duty entrusted to them. I am therefore directed to invite early communications in reference to any Registers which may be presumed to come within the scope of their investigations; and while they venture to hope that you will take the trouble to make known, as widely as possible—especially amongst ministers, deacons, trustees, and others likely to have possession or cognizance of Records of the kind referred to—the existence and objects of the Commission, they reckon with confidence upon the concurrence and assistance of all parties to whom this communication shall be made known.

I am, &c.,

JAMES T. HAMMACK, Secretary.

CIRCULAR LETTER TO THE PROPRIETORS OR TRUSTEES OF CLOSED BURIAL GROUNDS.

Non-Parochial Registers Commission,
General Register Office, Somerset House,
London, March, 1857.

GENTLEMEN,

I AM directed by the Commissioners appointed by Her Majesty to inquire into the state, custody, and authenticity of Non-parochial Registers (including Registers of burials kept for cemeteries and burial-grounds), to transmit for your information the accompanying circular, explanatory of the objects proposed in connection with the inquiry entrusted to them.

The Commissioners have already received from the proprietors or trustees of some of the burial-grounds which have been closed by Orders in Council the Registers of burials formerly kept therein; and it is anticipated that the same motives which have led to their being deposited will induce other persons in whose hands similar Registers remain, to embrace the present opportunity of securing for them the benefits of a legislative enactment, under which they will be received into legal custody, and full force and effect be given to them as evidence in courts of justice, objects of some importance to the community, and especially to the families of the persons whose names are recorded in the Registers in question.

Information having been received by the Commissioners that the burial-ground is now closed, they think it right to bring under your notice the existence and objects of this Commission; and they desire me to request the favour of your informing them whether it is your wish to transmit to them, for the purposes of public utility referred to, any Registers of burials which may be in your possession as proprietors or trustees of the above-named burial-ground.

I am, &c.,

JAMES T. HAMMACK, Secretary.

*To the Proprietors or Trustees of the

CIRCULAR LETTER TO THE SECRETARIES OF THE LOCAL ASSOCIATIONS OF THE DIFFERENT RELIGIOUS BODIES.

Non-Parochial Registers Commission,
General Register Office,
London, 25th March 1857.

REV. SIR,

THE Commissioners appointed by Her Majesty to inquire into the state, custody, and authenticity of Non-parochial Registers wish to make known, as widely as possible, amongst the Ministers and other representatives of non-conformist congregations, the existence and objects of the Commission; and they conceive that this end may be effectually attained, as regards the religious denomination with which you are connected, through the intervention of the various associations which will hold their accustomed meetings during the present spring.

With this view, I beg to forward to you, by direction of the Commissioners, the accompanying copies of a circular which they have prepared in reference to the objects proposed by the inquiry entrusted to them; and I am to request the favour of your placing the subject in the official programme of the next meeting of the association of which you are secretary, in order to ensure due attention being given to it upon that occasion.

I am, &c.,

JAMES T. HAMMACK, Secretary.

APPENDIX C.

REPLIES RECEIVED TO APPLICATIONS RESPECTING THE REGISTERS OF THE ROMAN CATHOLICS AND JEWS, AND THE REGISTERS AT THE EAST INDIA HOUSE.

REGISTERS OF THE ROMAN CATHOLICS.

(Cardinal Wiseman to the Registrar General.)

SIR,

Leyton, Essex, April 8, 1856.

IN reply to your note of the 5th instant, referring me to your communication of the 20th October of last year, I beg to say that the subject to which they both relate is one on which I could not give an answer without consulting my fellow bishops.

As they all met in London last week for the first time since I had the honour of hearing from you in October, I embraced the opportunity of bringing before them your proposal that our Catholic Registers of Baptisms and Marriages should be deposited in the Registrar General's Office.

It is necessary to observe that almost continual applications are made from the Continent and from America to us for certificates of Baptism, Confirmation, and Marriage, both for legal and (still oftener) for ecclesiastical purposes. Persons about to receive Orders or to marry require the two first, and the third is wanted to determine succession.

In Catholic countries no merely civil certificate is sufficient for such purposes. Any such document must be extracted from the Register by the priest in charge of the church or chapel where the entry was made, and it must be accompanied by a declaration, signed and sealed by the Catholic bishop, that the person whose signature is affixed holds such office, and is entitled to full credence.

Were the Registers to pass out of the custody of the priest in charge of the place to which they belonged, it would be necessary for the priest to come up to London, say from Manchester, to verify any extract, or to make it himself, every time a certificate was applied for to him from abroad. This would be a serious expense and inconvenience.

So particular are authorities abroad as to the forms of these documents being conformable to those prescribed in the Roman Ritual, that they have been sent back from Italy, and even from Brazil, because some formality was wanting, or some omission occurred from peculiar usages of our own (e. g. omission of a parochial seal), and I have had to make particular declarations to make the document valid or efficient. I need not add that these forms and certificates are universally in Latin. I may also, however, observe that throughout the Catholic Church a Bishop is, by virtue of his office, a Prothonotary Apostolic, so that his signature and seal require no further verification or authentication.

To show to what extent this condition of things may proceed, I will mention that some time (perhaps two years) ago a Hungarian nobleman came to England and married a Protestant lady in a Protestant Church. On returning home he found that his marriage was not recognised, the Protestant minister's certificate not being recognised, and he applied to me to give him a declaration of his marriage as valid before the Church here, based upon the Protestant certificate. This, of course, I was obliged to decline doing, having no official cognizance of the signature, nor any relations with the officiating parties.

At this moment I have before me an application from a highly respectable advocate at Madrid to disprove, as far as possible, an alleged marriage twenty years ago, which, if it took place, cuts off from considerable property the children of a later marriage. My attestation of search and non-discovery will be official and admitted by the courts. Difficulties might arise if the Registers were totally out of my keeping or control, nor, I suppose, in the present state of the law, could you send documents for episcopal verification, or recognize any official declarations or attestations from us.

As, therefore, our references to our registers are ten times on account of foreign or ecclesiastical demands for once in connection with domestic civil purposes, you will see the serious obstacles to our depositing our Registers in any general office.

I have, &amp;c.,

(Signed) N. CARD. WISEMAN.

To the Registrar General.

REGISTERS OF THE JEWS.

(Sir Moses Montefiore, Bart., to the Registrar General.)

SIR,

Grosvenor Gate, Park Lane, 6th February 1856.

By the direction of the Board of Deputies of the British Jews copies of your communication of the 20th October last, with reference to the deposit of Jewish Registries of Births, &c. in the General Register Office, were transmitted to the several Metropolitan synagogues. From the replies which have been received it appears that, for the reasons stated on a former occasion, and which are embodied in the Report which you mention, the Metropolitan synagogues do not think it desirable to part with their Registers.

I am deputed by the Board to express its thanks for your kindness in calling its attention to the subject.

I have, &c.

(Signed) MOSES MONTEFIORE,
President.
George Graham, Esq., Registrar General, &c. &c. &c.

REGISTERS AT THE EAST INDIA HOUSE

(Sir James C. Melvill, K.C.B., to the Secretary of the Commission.)

SIR, East India House, 23d December, 1857.

I HAVE laid before the Court of Directors of the East India Company your letter of the 5th instant, with its enclosures, forwarded by desire of the Commissioners for inquiring into the State, Custody, and Authenticity of Non-parochial Registers, in which, adverting to the Report presented by the Commissioners of 1837, and to the Act 14 & 15 Vict. cap. 40, they submit, for the consideration of the Court, whether it would not be desirable to transfer to the custody of the Registrar General all Records relating to Baptisms, Marriages, and Burials in India which are now deposited at the East-India House.

In reply, I am commanded to acquaint you, for the information of the Commissioners, that, for the reasons stated in my letter of the 17th May 1838, the Court are still of opinion that the convenience and interests of the public will be best consulted by the documents in question being allowed to remain in this house.

I am to add, that authenticated copies of the Certificates of Marriages of Europeans solemnized in India, and transmitted to the Registrar General under Act 14 & 15 Vict. cap. 40 (about 230 in number), are also kept in the same department, for the purpose of maintaining the general registers in a complete state.

I am, &c.,

James T. Hammack, Esq.

JAMES C. MELVILL.
